Item IX The nature of products or services offered

In responding to this item, please describe the following so that a potential investor can clearly understand the products and services of the issuer:

A. principal products or services, and their markets;

Enable Software specializes in the development and delivery of software that uses the Internet to deliver key business applications and solutions such as Email Management, Online Storage and Customer Relationship Management. The company focuses the delivery of its solutions to Internet Service Providers and Telecom Companies around the globe.

Enable allows clients to integrate with many of the world's leading email management partners such as Commtouch (Nasdaq:CTCH) and Image Analyzer as well as partnering with some key global players with whom Enable works to deliver its solutions. The Board of Enable Software are industry professionals with many years operating in the Internet Security Space and are actively developing additional software offerings that have synergy with the exiting Enable Software Mission statement and business requirements.

Enable Software Ltd., a European based email management software solutions company, works exclusively with IT Service Providers to furnish them with the very latest in email management technology for the modern market place. Their solution covers everything from Email Management through to Active Directory Integration Services.

ENABLETS specializes in the delivery of Email control and Management solutions and the interface between the user, their provider and the back end Email Management Systems. The ENABLETS product range currently consists of a framework for the control and management of email control, with the option of adding additional components such as spam filtering, virus defense, compliance filters, archiving, encryption and much more.

ENABLETS acts as enabler, to enable partners to deliver Email Control and Management solutions to their customer base quickly and easily without the need for large cap-ex budgets.

ENABLETS offers partners the framework, the management and additional development as well as sales and marketing support drawing from the ENABLETS experience in Hosted Email Management.

Framework

ENABLETS have developed a framework that includes a set of Key components that represent the core of any email management system.

The framework provides customers with the technology to go to market with their own email management system. Using the ENABLETS framework baseline, topped with ENABLETS Components or third party components, vendors can create an email management product that meets their and their customer's requirements, without having the restriction of "out the box" software solutions.

For example, without the ENABLETS framework, if the customer wishes to go to market with an anti-spam, PCI Compliance, archiving and anti pornography solutions they would either have to fully develop the solution in house, or purchase a point solution.

If they were to purchase a point solution, unless the point solution vendor has the option for every component they require, they would need to either lose functionality or have 2 standalone solutions with no integration. By deploying 2 standalone solutions with no integration, make it very difficult for the provider to sell it as a single solution. It could also be cost prohibitive, as running costs and license costs are likely to be higher as they are buying from multiple vendors.

The other major issue is finding a point solution to meet the multiple requirements your customers may have. You may need to implement small changes to the platform, or even large changes, with point solutions customers are often tied down to the vendor's way of working.

With the ENABLETS framework, the partner could add or customize any component they choose.

If ENABLETS do not offer the component, they could integrate a component from any other provider and seamlessly plug it into the framework.

Consultancy Experience

With the need for email controls and management growing at an expedient rate, the market has a shortage of experienced human resource. The ENABLETS framework allows vendors to go to market with very little in house experience or development resource. In most cases using the framework vendors will be able to go to market within 2 months. In addition to the framework vendors can use to use ENABLETS resource to develop their complete solution, including branding, design, etc.

Managed Service

Many companies who go to market fast will not have sufficient in house resource for the management of the servers/infrastructure. The ENABLETS managed service will provide a complete management package. The management package will be build around service levels, and will provide complete 24/7 management and monitoring of the servers.

The Current Market

The current need for email control and management platforms is growing at an expedient rate; this in turn is increasing the pressure on I.T. suppliers to offer solutions. Because of the timelines involved in developing an in-house solution and the limitations of purchasing a point solution many providers have a 2 year plan for route the market.

Today email is the primary source of communication in businesses. On average over 17 communication emails are received each day per employee, whereas the amount of communication over the phone is significantly less. The requirement for solutions that offer more than mere 'anti-spam' and 'anti-virus' is fast growing. Hosted services for full Email Management are required which offer businesses the ability to manage their email affairs through a single point of entry, a single online portal. The market in Cloud Based Email Management is growing and many larger companies having seen this growth are investing in small, international Email Management Companies.

The market is moving away from the on-site hardware solutions to the 'Cloud Based' solutions. Many business turn primarily to their Internet Service Provider for solutions but few are setup with sufficiently complex solutions to offer a single point of management. This means businesses are fast adopting solutions from the Cloud Based providers. The requirement for more complex solutions is fast growing with Analyst firm IDC predicting that the market for email archiving will reach more than $1 billion by the end of 2010.

To conclude, the market is moving towards a more complex, Internet (or Cloud) based solution which can fulfill both their 'standard' or anti-spam/anti-virus requirements as well as their Regulatory or Compliance requirements. The market needs to be able to 'plug in' to a provider that has solutions to their entire email management needs, and not just part of them. The business, to conclude, is willing to embrace and to finance the move to a complete outsourced solution. Enable Software allows key Service Providers to compete in this market sector through the deployment of its software range giving them a market advantage over the existing players.

Target Customer Base / Partnerships

ENABLETS is a partner driven platform; ENABLETS is an enabler that allows I.T. service or telecoms companies deliver a service to their customer.

Users of the technology

Although ENABLETS do not directly deliver services to end businesses, the technology will be delivered by the ENABLETS partner. ENABLETS is an “enabler” to technology companies who want to offer email protection services such as anti-spam, anti-virus, disaster recovery and policy & compliance to either an existing user base or an identified new customer base.

Marketing Requirements from Marketing

ENABLETS will require two sides to its marketing effort. Firstly, it needs to achieve sales and awareness for its own products and services to its customers. Secondly, it needs to provide these customers with the materials to quickly and easily go to market with products and services of its own, based on the ENABLETS Technology Framework. As such, the marketing materials themselves need not only to be of the very best quality, they will also need to be easily stripped down and white labeled by the immediate customer in their sales & marketing effort.

Brand awareness and case studies.

ENABLETS provides the technology for I.T. service companies and telecom companies to go to market with their own solution. Therefore the brand aware is less key than that of our Partners. It is important however that our partners are comfortable with our technology, we will build confidence by building a library of case studies and leveraging our managements team previous reputation within the industry.

There are very few others in this space and, therefore, brand awareness is more cost effective to achieve than having to compete in a crowded market. The majority of potential customers would research online when looking for this solution and, as such, good online presence is essential.

ENABLETS is one of the first to market with this concept of selling to the providers and, as such, has the lead in many areas. As the first successful business to, the kudos and interest associated with this will aid us in our brand awareness.

B. distribution methods of the products or services;

ENABLETS do not directly deliver services to end businesses; the technology will be delivered by the ENABLETS partner. ENABLETS is an “enabler” to technology companies who want to offer email protection services such as anti-spam, anti-virus, disaster recovery and policy & compliance to either an existing user base or an identified new customer base.

C. status of any publicly announced new product or service;

ENABLETS specializes in the delivery of Email control and Management solutions and the interface between the user, their provider and the back end Email Management Systems. The ENABLETS product range currently consists of a framework for the control and management of email control, with the option of adding additional components such as spam filtering, virus defense, compliance filters, archiving, encryption and much more. The software solutions are customizable based on customer’s needs. Any new products and services will be disclosed as appropriate.

D. competitive business conditions, the issuer’s competitive position in the industry, and methods of competition;

There are many email control and management available on the market as it currently stands. Most providers are trying to keep up with the latest requirements and threats. Although some of our competitors are able to offer a fully functional service to the kinds of partners we engage with, most of these are designed with the large or small enterprise in mind and their systems need to be “bent” into the Data Centre environment meaning a huge loss in functionality and potential revenue opportunity for the client. Because of these factors, Mobil Media Unlimited has found multiple gaps in the services and technology that are being currently provided for email management system. Many of the Company’s competitors are specialized in just one aspect of a complete system, or they are offering only partial integration solutions. Mobil Media Unlimited will separate itself by providing full turn-key technology to a wide array of market segments. The Corporation will leverage its experience in software integration, formatting, composition and content creation to create a full service turnkey solution that will offer more than its competitors.
